

PFAS Statement

Carpet manufacturers have long led the way in creating products that are safe, sustainable, and beautiful for homes, schools and commercial spaces. Many years ago, CRI members voluntarily stopped the use of long-chain perfluorinated compounds (C8 or higher chain PFCs). These were substituted for other compounds to ensure safe and environmentally sound methods of protecting carpets from soiling and liquid stains.

